

IS RUSSIA READY TO FIGHT ON?

PETROGRAD HAS BEEN ABANDONED BY ALL THE FOREIGN LEGATIONS IT IS REPORTED.

TO DEFEND MOSCOW

WILL Bolshevik Leaders Be Able To Stem the Tide of the German Advance Which Continues Daily?

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Stockholm March 1.—The American consul has left Petrograd where he remained after the embassy's departure according to information reaching American legation here. The consul has been taken over by the Norwegian consul.

Turn For Worse.

Meager reports appear to indicate the situation in Petrograd has taken an unexpected turn for the worse in view of the fact the latest previous message from the Russian capital said the American consul would remain there after the departure of the ambassador and his staff in order to keep in touch with the American legation here and with the state department. News agencies the press and diplomats here are without any but the most meager dispatches from Petrograd in the last twenty-four hours.

Others Leave.

London, March 1.—The British and French embassy have left Petrograd according to a cablegram from the British legation agency in Petrograd and on which there is no date.

It is indicated from Stockholm Ambassador Francis has left Petrograd the department of British and French embassy takes from Bolshevik capital the representative of the foremost entente countries Sir George W. Fuchanan the British ambassador to Russia some weeks ago. F. O. Lindley the controller of embassy has been in charge of their affairs. The French embassy to Russia is Maurice Paleologue.

London, Mar. 1.—A Russian wireless message giving the text of another proclamation to all Russia and asking for utmost resistance to German orders and for food producers to send as much food as possible of Moscow.

The appeal says: "The capital of the revolution will have to resist along side but it will not capitulate until the last moment. To this end it needs utmost assistance in regard to food. You must not permit the starvation of revolutionists in Petrograd."

Council Active.

Russian council of people's commissioners has decided to return to Petrograd says an official Russian statement received here today. Removal of the element of the population valueless in defense of capital is being continued.

No previous indication that the people's commissioners had left Petrograd has been contained in Russian advises. These commissioners who comprise the Russian government under the Bolshevik regime had their headquarters at Smolna Institute in Petrograd. Dispatches from Petrograd bearing Monday's date reported the removal of the military activity of the government to a camp outside of Petrograd but stated the commissioners themselves were expected to remain at the institute.

Americans Safe.

Washington, Mar. 1.—The committee on public information has announced to the public by advise from its representative in Petrograd that Ambassador Francis and his staff the American conciliate, the military mission and Red Cross representative all left Petrograd for Vologga on the night of February 27.

Advance Resumed.

London, Mar. 1.—Dispatches received by Exchange Telegraph Co. filed in Petrograd at 6:00 p.m. Thursday indicated the German advance into Russia has been resumed.

Troops Advance.

Berlin, March 1.—German troops continuing their advance in Russia have reached the Dnieper river, the war office announces. Austro-Hungarian troops have begun their advance into Ukraine.

Into Ukraine over a wide sector north of the Pruth the movement of Austro-Hungarian troops the state-mass was begun in response to an appeal from the Ukraine. The Germans also have reached the line near Sascoff and Tschin.

Wait Signature.

London, March 1.—The Russian peace delegates at Brest-Litovsk were informed that hostilities would cease only when a peace treaty was signed, said a Russian official statement received here today. Three days are allowed for negotiations beginning today.

BIG BRITISH STEAMERS ARE SUNK BY SUBMARINES

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, Mar. 1.—The British merchant steamship Tiberia of 4880 tons gross owned by the Anchor Line was sunk by German submarine Feb. 27 while bound for this port according to information received in shipping circles today. The ship was rescued. The Tiberia was built in Glasgow Feb. 1913.

Second Loss.

An Atlantic Port, Mar. 1.—The British freight steamship Manhattan of 3004 tons gross was torpedoed and sunk while in convoy of warships and while within hailing distance of American merchantmen, it was learned today upon arrival here or an American oil tanker.

SENATOR WILLIAM SMITH WILL NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, Mar. 1.—Senator Wm. Smith a republican leader in the senate announced today he would not be a candidate for re-election but leave the senate when his term expires March 4, 1919.

American Gunners Pay Off Score On The German Lines

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WITH the American Army in France Mar. 1—Swift retribution has fallen on German batteries which this week bombarded American trenches northwest of Toul with gas shells. American heavy artillery concentrated its fire on German batteries for half an hour today and obliterated the position.

Many direct hits with high explosive shells were made by American gunners. Timbers were thrown high in air and exploded probably many of enemy's ammunition and gas, resulting. The ground about the German batteries was turned upside down and if there were any German soldiers there they certainly suffered death. Thus far six men died from effects of German gas shell. More than eighty are in hospitals suffering from gas poisons. Most cases are slight and only one is reported in grave condition.

Guns Located.

Aeroplane photographs aided American gunners in destructive fire against German batteries. The photographs taken yesterday disclosed the location of the Minenwerfers with the result that it did not take the gunners long to even up the score with the enemy.

While the number of enemy shells falling within American lines decreased slightly in the last twenty-four hours, nevertheless artillery fighting has been lively. While an empty American ammunition train had been at once called "Death Men's" Point a stray enemy shell dropped from sky and killed two men and two horses who had run, and wounded four others.

Blocks Dugout.

In a certain town behind the line a German shell exploded near the door leading to a telephone dugout, blocking the passageway. The operator in the dugout, although in considerable danger, continued to work. The important line at the same time called for help. Soldiers were sent to the dugout and passage ways reopened. The American artillery kept up constant harassing and destructive fire on many vital enemy points, such as crossroads and towns.

German working parties were dispersed effectively and once the 75's fired vigorously at a number of Germans in first line trenches, blowing in the entire trench system. Ground mist and rain have prevented free observation but the guns have the enemy target so well registered they have been able to work effectively.

Attempt Retaliation.

Late this afternoon the Germans attempted to retaliate for the destruction of Minenwerfers. They bombarded American heavy artillery with their biggest guns, but their shooting is little better. American patrols were all over No Man's Land last night but did not encounter any Germans.

The American sector is now an ocean of mud and constant work is necessary to keep trench gun pits and dugouts free from water. From information reaching American lines it is apparent the Germans are taking advantage of low visibility to do much damage in their position. Many noises of this kind make this information certain.

English Report.

London, Mar. 1.—The reports from British headquarters in France and Belgium tonight read:

"Early this morning English troops successfully raided enemy trenches in the neighborhood of Gonelle (southwest of Cambrai). Considerable casualties were inflicted on the garrison, a machine gun blown up and a hand grenade brought back. In the raid last night south of Hougholt Forest, Dorset, Manchester, Lancashire and Scottish troops penetrated the enemy defenses to a depth of 120 yards. In addition to fourteen prisoners captured, a large number of the enemy are believed to have been killed.

Other Raids.

"A successful raid in which we captured six prisoners was carried out by Stafford and Shropshire troops last night in the area of the Paris-Staden Railway," the war office reports. "There was some artillery activity on both sides during the night in the neighborhood of La Vacquerie and east of Ypres."

French Report.

Paris, March 1.—After a violent bombardment last night the Germans made an attack on the Aisne front east of Chavignon, the war office announced. Violent hand to hand struggles followed, terminating advantageously for the French, who threw back the Germans and inflicted heavy losses on them.

FUEL CLOSING ORDER DEFENDED IN HOUSE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, Mar. 1.—The fuel administration's recent closing order was defended in the house today by Representative Rainey of Illinois, who declared that when the "entire story told there will be glad to excuse from the record if the country speaks them immediately after the order's promulgation." "Speeches made in this house that day, none of them on the democratic side," Representative Rainey said, "will not be dropped from airplanes inside the German lines, and if an effusion from an ex-attorney general of the United States, given circulation, get into Germany at all it will be done there by Germans and we will splendidly encourage German armies in their present crisis."

The Illinois representative asserted too much already had been disclosed regarding military movements. "The entire story," he added, "cannot now be told. After the war is over it will be possible to give all reasons for the coal order of January 17th."

"Not only the coal administration falling by the middle of January, but shipment of steel plates and steel bars needed for the great new fleet the United States is building had fallen off 50 per cent. More alarming still," he added, "was the falling off in shipment of projective steel needed for munition manufacturing. This had fallen off by the middle of January for similar reasons."

He said that relief brought about by the heatless Monday order was immediately apparent. As a result 480 ships have been loaded and coaled since January 17. Forty of them, he said, were loaded with food, seventy-one with coal oil and gasoline, and 369 with munitions, and nearly everyone had safely reached its destination and supplies are being distributed to armies in France. Steel movements now have become normal.

ANXIETY CAUSED IN FRANCE BECAUSE OF BOLSHEVIK ACTION

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

PARIS, March 1.—The repudiation by the Bolshevik government of Russia entered bonds debt caused some anxiety among French people who held at least half of the debt of the empire outstanding at the beginning of the war.

Eighteen billions of francs of Russian bonds, at the price of issue, were listed on the Paris bourse. Twelve billions according to the lowest estimate fifteen billions according to other calculations were bought by the French public.

Servants in white aprons, bare-headed market women, domestics of all categories and men in the blouse of the peasant and the laborer made up the long line of investors in front of the wickets whenever Russian loans.

"I haven't a sou invested in Russia," a millionaire Parisian said to the Associated Press, "but every one of my servants has one or more Russian bonds." Another millionaire said the same was true of his household.

"Instead of hitting the counting house and the salon, the Bolsheviks are hitting the servants' hall and the boudoirs," was the way he put the situation.

There is no little apprehension in socialist circles as to the effect of this heavy blow the extreme revolutionary element in Russia has delivered in the extreme liberal element in France. A peasant or workingman who may overlook or disbelieves news of Bolshevik excesses or misconducts of their own will be unable to doubt the evidence of his own disappointment.

Until now the holders of Russian bonds have been reassured by the payment of the January coupons which the French treasury assumed. It does appear yet, however, whether the French government will assume the burden indefinitely and if the bankruptcy of the revolution is to continue to concern affecting the greater number of the smaller investors who have been financing the Russian empire since 1888 will be ruined.

Clothing, particularly for men, has reached prohibitive quotations. This is due to the fact that tailors rely chiefly on their military clientele now, and make more uniforms in a day than they make civilian suits in a month. Soldiers and officers order their tunics and breeches without regard to cost, and when an order for a silk suit which would have cost $30 or $35 a year ago, he will find it costing $75 to $100 today.

Haberdashery, too, is climbing steadily, and it is practically impossible to find a shirt for less than twenty francs—more than $2. The cheapest scarfs three lire shown are five francs. Diners do not care for clothing.

The claim that money furnished by France brought no benefit to the people of Russia is also contested. It is possible to trace the money loaned to the revolution to the amount loaned to the army by the French monarchy prior to 1789, yet the convention made it a point of honor to take those debts to the account of the revolution.

France has been compelled to pay the money loaned to the revolution to the amount borrowed by the French monarchy prior to 1789, yet the convention made it a point of honor to take those debts to the account of the revolution.

Russia has improved only about a third of her land at the beginning of the war and the question is asked how the people to whom the land is turned over will find means of improving it if Russia credit is forever destroyed by the revolution.

Janesville's Business Man's Stomach Smaller

"My much distended stomach is greatly reduced. Doctors wanted to operate and tap my stomach but I happened to see a newspaper ad of Mayor's Wonderful Remedy and after taking 3 doses I have had no more distress or bloating and am eating things I have not dared to eat for 6 years. I am confident you, medical students, will cure me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and relieves the inflammation which causes practically all stomach and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. ROCK COUNTY MUST RAISE MORE SUGAR BEETS THIS SEASON

Consumption of Sugar in County Is Nearly Double the Amount Produced From Beets Grown.

Rock county has not been doing its share in the production of sugar. At the present time Rock County Sugar company manufactured and shipped the past season 2,400,000 pounds of beet sugar made from Rock county beets, the normal consumption by the people of this county alone has been 4,620,000 pounds each year. Thus it may be seen that although Janesville has one of the largest sugar factories in the state the production is greatly less than the consumption and the county is not bearing the burden it should.

Farmers are being asked to grow as much as the coming summer that perhaps the production of sugar beets has not received the attention which it deserves. The sugar factory is capable of handling a much larger amount of beets than was grown last year and farmers should recognize this fact and grow more beets. There are sixteen shipping points in Rock county. If 150 farmers living within a radius of three miles from each of these stations would plant one acre to beets this year, the beet crop would be 4,600,000 pounds. This is just triple the 1917 acreage of 1,500 tons. The normal amount of sugar which an acre of beets will make is ten to fifteen tons. Again rambling into high figures, this would make the production of sugar beets in Rock county 1,200,000 pounds well over the normal consumption.

That people must begin to curb their eating of sugar is evident. The United States is consuming over three times as much sugar per capita as England and over six times as much as France. The per capita consumption in each of these countries last year was: United States, 84 pounds; England, 24 pounds; France, 13 pounds. The consumption of Rock county is estimated to be the basis of 84 pounds per capita, during that the population is 65,000, thus bringing the consumption figures to the grand total of 4,620,000 pounds.

CITIZENSHIP LOSS THREATENS MANY

Several hundred Rock county residents may be forced into court to defend their right to citizenship.

The United States circuit court handed down January 3, 1918, a decision declaring invalid all second declarations issued on old law declarations filed prior to Sept. 27, 1908.

The seven year limitation clause was declared to have become effective in 1906 and, it followed, all certificates issued subsequent to Sept. 27, 1913, on declarations made previous to 1906, were held void.

"Those persons who were granted certificates between Sept. 27, 1913, and the time of the supreme court ruling do not voluntarily yield their citizenship if the government will have to institute against them proceedings to show cause why their petitions should not be cancelled," declared a naturalization clerk.

The circuit judge of the state, in a resolution petitioning congress to validate the certificates, said:

"Naturalization clerks throughout the country have law declarations there-which are not valid according to the supreme court's decision. Filing new applications for citizenship will be necessary for all those affected by the ruling unless congress takes remedial action.

BLUE LAW IS UPHELD BY EVANSVILLE JURY

Mr. and Mrs. George McGee Are Fined Five Dollars and Costs Each by Judge

Evansville, Wisconsin, March 1.—Wisconsin "Blue Law" or better known as the Sunday closing law was upheld in Evansville yesterday afternoon when the jury of Justice Spencer Fullen's court brought a verdict of guilty against Mr. and Mrs. George McGee, for operating a "movie" house on Sunday afternoons and evenings, in violation of the law.

Mr. McGee was fined $5 and costs five dollars and costs each Mr. and Mrs. George McGee as manager of the theatre. They immediately appealed the case and it will be tried in Janesville in Judge Maxfield's court at an early date.

Much interest was manifested during the trial of this case especially by the church folk who are anxious that the city of Evansville remain closed on Sunday in favor of a somewhat less drastic closing law. Heretofore the city was closed down on Sunday tighter than a snare drum.

The jury which tried the McGee case was composed of the following members: Roy Atchinson, Shappa Barnard, Guy Barnard, Fred Rolcy and Lew Spencer. Thomas Nolan was attorney for the defense, Stanley Dunwiddie was attorney for the state.

PRIMARY ELECTION FOR CITY OFFICES UNDER DISCUSSION

Mayor and City Hold That Election Will Be Held on Non-Partisan Basis—Others of Diverse Opinions.

Whether a primary election will be held in this city on March 19 to nominate candidates for various elective city offices is still a question in the minds of political leaders because of the diverse opinions which are held relative to the election laws of the state which govern all municipal elections of city officials. Opinions on the question have been advanced by City Attorney Charles Lange and by Mayor James A. Fathers as well as other authorities on city affairs.

In the opinion of the attorney general, it is still a question whether the election for city offices would be conducted on a non-partisan basis and that no primaries would be necessary on March 19th. A primary election of course will be held in Janesville to vote on the candidates for United States senator from this state, but no city candidates will be named at this time.

Mayor Fathers also holds the same opinion due to the rulings of the state attorney.

Farmers are being asked to grow as much as the coming summer that perhaps the production of sugar beets has not received the attention which it deserves. The sugar factory is capable of handling a much larger amount of beets than was grown last year and farmers should recognize this fact and grow more beets.

Other statements were made today that the election would not necessarily be conducted on a non-partisan basis by election authorities. It is claimed that if any nomination papers are filed with the city clerk previous to March 5, he must file for the filing of the papers if the election were conducted on a partisan basis.

University high school basketball players of Madison will come to this city this evening to meet the local high school five in the school gymnasium.
The game will begin at eight o'clock and according to the advance
"dope" which can be secured relative to the strength of the Madison team, it will be close throughout until the final whistle.

The local men were put through a final workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for the event. All men are in the best of shape and the short scrimmage and signal drill was gone through without a hitch. The full line up which will start the game will be as yet been decided upon but it is a certainty that Captain Elton will start the game at center. Sprackling and Nizius will be at the forwards with Lane, Haag, Paul and Nichols taking turns at the guards.

Previous to the big game of the evening a preliminary game will be played between two high school teams.
This game will begin promptly at seven o'clock so that the University High-Janesville game can start at eight o'clock.

YALE AND PRINCETON CLUBS MERGED TODAY

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS

New York, March 1.—Yale and Princeton merged their clubs here today. Members of the Princeton club abandoned the Stanford White mansion in Gramercy park and moved in body to the big new Yale club, 1000 Fourth street and Van-Zandt avenue.

The merger solved numerous problems of each club. The question of maintenance became a serious one when war service claimed nearly 700 active members from the Princeton club an equal number from the Yale club. The Yale club invited the Princeton club to merge and the Princetonians gratefully accepted because they, too, had a few perplexing problems.

The Yale club building, a twenty-story structure is the last word in club construction, convenience and luxury. There are no separate quarters for the Princeton men. They have merged absolutely into the Yale-Princeton club for the duration of the war.

BAKERS WIN ALL THREE GAMES FROM CLOTHIERS

Rohrberg's Clothiers failed to hit their usual stride last night and were trounced all over by Bennison and Lanes' bakers. Although the clothiers fought gamely they were off color while the bakers were in the best of trim, winning by a margin of 188 pins. Bruggs, with 205, was high, while Dick Saxy topped the honors for the losers with 174. The scores:

ST. LOUIS AMERICANS START TRAINING SOON

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis, Mar. 1.—The St. Louis Americans will spend the next five days in their training camp at Shreveport, La., before getting into action. The players will leave here March 10. Exhibition games have been arranged with Shreveport. Fielder Jones, manager of the club, is expected to reach here six days before the departure of the players to settle some preliminary plans.

It is generally agreed in Pittsburgh that George Cutshaw is going to do wonders in strengthening the defense of the Pirate infield. A veteran of Cutshaw's experience and brains will steady the youngsters about him and teach them a lot while doing it. Cutshaw is not a spectacular performer but he is one of the most dependable infielders in the game.

ABOUT TIME FOR GAME TO HAVE DOLLAR-SIGN REMOVED

The way in which the commercial side of baseball has been played up in recent times has stirred indignation. The prices paid for players and their salaries, the sums taken in at the big games and so on, these things have been given so much attention that the fans are beginning to weary of it and to express a desire to hear less such talk henceforth. Club owners in both of the big leagues are much annoyed with Weegman and Frazee, who have been spending all sorts of change for gifted players that they may cop the pennants next season and realize nicely on their investments. Too much attention to the money end of the game promises trouble in several quarters and with the kind help of one and all perhaps something can be done to squelch the commercial phase of the game.

THE SOLDIERS' MAIL.

Complaints keep coming in of non-delivery of mail to soldiers. Or else it takes so long to deliver letters that the soldier gets down-hearted. If the matter of soldiers' mail was ever regarded as unimportant and trifling detail, it is a great misconception.

The tape at Washington hindered the start of the system. A great many imperfectly addressed letters have been coming in for soldiers, without saving the military organization to which a man belongs. Such letters had to go to Washington. There an inadequate force has been struggling to keep up with the pile of work ahead. With incomplete records, it took a lot of searching to find whether or not a man had gone to France. Or if not, at what cantonment he was located.

The department has been working with an inadequate force on a card catalog that would locate promptly each man. When an imperfectly addressed letter gets to Washington, there should be clerks enough so that the address can be supplied and the letter dispatched within twenty-four hours.

The matter, however, is not so simple as it looks. There are too many German spies in our departments. How far have they worned their way into our postal service? It would not do them much good to learn that John Smith belongs to Company A, of the 7th regiment. If not, they know where the 7th regiment is now located. That is the kind of thing they want. It is a problem to get a smooth working system without letting out information that the enemy wants. A big force of clerks will be needed, but the loyalty of each will need constant watch.

Probably a lot of letters will be sent to France to men who have gone by way of England and have been held there. After the boys get located in France, the work of reaching them will be simplified. It will take a lot of clerical work to keep the records.

"YOUR SHARE IS FAIR."

Monday marks the opening of the drive for the "war chest fund," and from the preliminary activity it would appear that it would be most successful and solve one of the great burdens of the average citizen. "Your share is fair" is a slogan that is worthy of attention for it means just what it says. George S. Parker, who has devoted all his time to the organization work for the great drive, has put the men and men into the workers until the members of the various committees are on edge for the opening gun to be fired. The plan is simple in itself and gives everyone an opportunity to do their own individual share of these war contributions, so absolutely necessary, according to their means. One finds takes care of all these various demands that have been most constant upon the pocketbooks of citizens and the burden does not become burdensome. It is county-wide in scope and everyone is listed so no one need feel slighted by not having been approached. "Your share is fair."

THE SENATORSHIP.

It would appear that the coming March primary will be most intensely interesting owing to the campaign which is on for the selection of candidates for United States senators. The social demagogues have selected Victor Berger as their choice for a standard bearer. The Democrats will put their faith in Joe Davies, chance, while in the republican ranks three names are to be voted on. Lenroot, present member of congress, and one of the staunchest of loyal government supporters; former Governor McGovern, and Mr. Thompson, whose sole claim to the office is that he is a La Follette supporter, and while he has a long-winded platform it is practically a La Follette document. The real excitement will be in the republican ticket and as the other two party candidates have no opposition they can be certain of some of the votes of these politicians which will have an effect upon the final results.

The people who kick about the boys carrying around to sell trifles stamps and lottery bonds were probably the ones that kicked the hardest because the boys used to occupy their time throwing stones through their windows.

And the people who grow the most about having to pay an income tax would be the same ones who would complain the most if their income was so small that they did not have to make any return.

The Germans don't exactly like to die for the Kaiser, but they would rather do it than have the bother of self-government and managing their own affairs.

The people who kick the hardest about government incompetence are often the same ones that always vote for their personal friends to have all the offices.

There is a tendency on the part of the cats on the back yard fence to continue indefinitely the celebration of National Song Week.

ARMY DOCTORS WILL USE BADGER CROP OF DIGITALIS

Madison, Wis., Mar. 1.—All of the plants raised last year in the drug plant garden at the University of Wisconsin is to be used by the government in the medical departments of the army and navy. About 150 pounds of the powdered drug, which is used as a heart stimulant, is now ready for shipment, and almost as much as that is expected to be available for the making of tincture.

Many important hospitals throughout the country have been using digitalis from the university experiment gardens, but the need of digitalis in the army brought the decision to offer Wisconsin's supply to help fill this demand.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Public:

On Wednesday evening I wrote an article which was published in the Gazette expressing my views regarding a People's party organization to be organized for the selection of the best men obtainable for the offices of aldermen and other city officials. I was immediately approached by one of the former aldermen referred to as a discredited politician and scoundrel, who endorsed my action and urged me to act as mediator between the aldermanic followers and those who had led the commission fight to see if a mass meeting could not be held at which these questions could be discussed and decided upon and the best man, regardless of political party or faction interests, selected as candidate.

With this in view I secured the signatures and approval of the majority of the men who had led the fight for the aldermanic form of government in the successful campaign just closed and labored all day to secure the signatures of the leaders of the commission fight. I was unable to secure their signatures to the call although many citizens who had not been active partisans expressed their approval of the plan.

Putting to secure the signatures of those commission leaders the friends of the aldermanic government decided to issue the proposed call with just one set of names attached and the plan was abandoned just as the commission form of government was abandoned by the voters on Tuesday. I feel this statement is due to the public that they may know that the men who lead the aldermanic fight were ready to co-operate with this matter so that Janesville would have a government of the best men available regardless of political or faction differences.

THOS. E. WELSH.

Editor, of the Gazette: Has the devil made his home in Janesville? Oh, this deplorable condition—brother against brother, neighbor against neighbor, employer against employee, business man against customer. A house divided cannot stand. I love Janesville, so do all who have been here. I am interested in the welfare of my children and yours. Let's be neighbors. Let's forget the past and again greet one another with the best wishes and friendliness. All will work for the best interests of the city and always remembering as you sow so shall you reap. Mr. Editor, you can help find a wrong in our city. You can right that wrong by giving it publicity. The great American people have yet to see the day when any people of any nation or country can stand on the same platform and there speak and express their minds and opinions. I am not looking for notoriety or publicity, but as a working man and a lover of home and our city, I always stand ready to give the best that is in me for our city and its people, and I again say, let's be friends—employer and employee working and giving the best that is in him for our city.

FRED GRAMKE, 1402 Mole Ave.

Class Prejudice.

To the editor:

Class prejudice alone is responsible for the decision at politics last day. The commission form of government has no defects it would be hard to find. They could not have found them. But they could not have found them. Everyone knows they tried in vain.

The advocates of the commission form might have made a more strenuous campaign but it could not have done any good. It was class against class. This class prejudice has existed in Janesville for years and from what can be learned it arose through controversies in the Commercial Club.

The victors attempted to associate and unite the Commercial Club with the present form of government but they failed to prove where the two are related.

As the result, however, Janesville has made no effort to offer an alternative form of government that is recognized as the twentieth century method of municipal administration.

The city has been forced to accept a discarded form of government, which in some cities may be successful, but which in Janesville was never successful.

If class prejudice was the prevailing issue in this campaign and there are no others to be considered, then what methods do the winners intend using to oust this prejudice? A change in government will never do it. Nothing can possibly unite classes in any community but earnest co-operation.

The victors attempted to associate and unite the Commercial Club with the present form of government but they failed to prove where the two are related.

As the result, however, Janesville has made no effort to offer an alternative form of government that is recognized as the twentieth century method of municipal administration.

It has developed a movement to have the shipping board restrain ships from returning to Lake Michigan ports from Erie docks "light." All cities on the lake front in Wisconsin and Illinois with any amount of tonnage docking have been asked to join in the demand.

It has developed that dozens of boats carrying ore eastward return light in order to get another load on which they receive a higher rate. They refuse to wait at eastern docks for return cargoes. This situation is said to cause the present fuel shortage in Wisconsin and the northwest.

Hundreds of tons of freight as well as fuel could be handled by these boats on their return trips, if the men and officials have started out to correct the alleged discrimination. Racine, Manitowoc, Waukegan, Milwaukee and other ports have been asked to join in the protest.

DRUNKEN MEXICAN CARRYING BUTCHER KNIFE IS CAPTURED

Under Sheriff Fred Beloy and Roy Worthington Arrest Ben Nigretti Near South Janesville Last Night.

Strolling to the Frank Hugunin home near South Janesville at ten-thirty last evening, Ben Nigretti, a Mexican greaser in a drunken condition knocked at the front door. When Hugunin opened the door he pulled his gun into the house and wandered about shouting Mexican curses. Becoming frightened, Mrs. Hugunin went up-stairs for her husband who came down immediately only to find that the greaser had disappeared. A ten-inch carving knife was found on the floor near the door.

Sheriff Whipple was notified at once and night patrolman Roy Worthington and Under-sheriff Fred Beloy hurried to the Hugunin home in the police auto, where they picked up Nigretti's trail. They followed his foot-steps through the snow for several hundred yards, finally coming upon the staggering greaser and taking him into custody. He was brought back to Janesville and lodged in the county jail where he will remain until his trial Judge Maxfield tomorrow morning.

Throughout the day he moped around his cell muttering to himself, turning on the gas jet at one time trying to take his own life. He is a typical greaser and talks English with much difficulty. He had been working on a section gang at South Janesville since Monday. He told Sheriff Whipple that he carried the butcher knife for self protection because he had his pocket-book stolen once.

Last night Dunwiddie's Dirigibles took the scale off of the Sappers of Thorson and defeated them two out of the three games played for the championship of the volly ball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. The game was interesting throughout which was caused by the closeness of the scores. Big Movement Will Begin on Monday Morning—Much Enthusiasm Is Shown at Gathering This Afternoon.

Final organization of the working forces of the entire county, who will conduct the war fund drive next week, was made at the meeting held at the court house this afternoon, at two o'clock. About one hundred captains, lieutenants and privates were in attendance to listen to the program which had been arranged to arouse the interest and enthusiasm in the project which should crown it with immediate success.

The plans which are to be followed in the drive were fully outlined and the methods which are to be followed were explained. Each worker was assigned his definite duties to perform when the drive begins. The work of visiting all the people of the county will start Monday morning at nine o'clock when the teams will start simultaneously in all parts of the county. Every man or woman who has an income or property holdings will be visited and asked to do his or her share towards aiding the government in winning the war by contributing to the "war chest" which will care for the demands made on the people by the Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Recreation fund and the Y. M. C. A.

Much enthusiasm was shown by those present at the meeting with the result that the leaders of the movement are confident that the work will be completed in a week's time. The plan is to have a fair, will be followed in all sections and all information which is secured relative to the incomes and property holdings of the individuals will be kept secret. George S. Parker, county campaign manager, addressed the meeting and told the workers of the methods to be used in advancing the merits of the cause and urged that the efforts be given to complete the work as soon as possible. Rev. Melrose, M. O. Mount and William Dougherty were on the program and gave some interesting facts relative to the work and what was expected of those who were doing the campaign work.

The representatives from Beloit brought the Fairbanks-Morse thirty piece band with them to add "pizz" to the gathering. Several selections were played on the down town streets by the band during the noon hour.

Although the drive proper will start on Monday, the work of enthusing the people will continue during the week. M. O. Mount will speak in Milton on Monday, and Arthur Fisher at Lima on the same day. Similar meetings will also be called in other sections of the county.

Concerning the Farmer.

Let us not be deceived by politicians or self conceit. Farmers are not perfect. Nor have they a monopoly upon honesty and integrity. As a class we have the unfaithful as well as the faithful, the deserving as well as the slothful, the dishonest as well as the honest. Men are not perfect in any occupation.—Exchange.

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN WORKERS IN MEETING

Committee on Educational Work for Wisconsin Gathered in City This Afternoon—Prominent Men in Attendance.

A meeting of the committee on educational work for Wisconsin in preparation for the third Liberty Loan drive, which will be launched in April, was held this afternoon at the Hotel Belvoir. Prominent men, who are devoting their entire time to the work, were present and the plans and the details of the bond sale were fully outlined.

Those in attendance were: Malcolm G. Jeffris of this city, chairman of the Rock County Liberty Loan committee and chairman of the state committee; Webster M. Nelson, of Chicago, director of publicity of the seventh federal reserve district; M. J. Stevens of Milwaukee, director of publicity for Wisconsin; Martin J. Gilien of Racine, director of publicity for Wisconsin; and William L. Ross, federal reserve director of sales for Wisconsin.

The plans which are to be followed in the drive were fully outlined and the methods which are to be followed were explained.

Each worker was assigned his definite duties to perform when the drive begins. The work of visiting all the people of the county will start Monday morning at nine o'clock when the teams will start simultaneously in all parts of the county.

George S. Parker, county campaign manager, addressed the meeting and told the workers of the methods to be used in advancing the merits of the cause and urged that the efforts be given to complete the work as soon as possible.

In reply to questions by Arbitrator Alschuler the witness expressed the view that living conditions were worse in the Chicago "back of the yards" district than similar sections in Kansas City, and Oklahoma City, which are in dry territories.

The witness said he realized the tendency of the dry belt toward temperance hours. He said he believed in the principle of extra compensation for overtime and holidays.

Love of the World and Love of the Father

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D.D.
Dean of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

tom, for at least twice before do they appear together in the Bible, first in the temptation of Eve in the garden of Eden and second in the temptation of Christ in the wilderness. Read carefully the third chapter of Genesis and the fourth of Matthew for the evidence of this.

But not only are these things incompatible with the love of the Father, but they are further argued against on the ground of their fleetness, for "the world passeth away and the lust thereof."

TRUTH—Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the father is not in him. For all that is in the world is the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the father, but it is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doth the will of God abideth forever.—1 John 2:16-17.

By the word "world" the inspired writer no doubt means everything that is opposed to God, everything within the sphere of our existence considered as in the kingdom of sin. We are not to love these things, for to love is to surrender oneself, and the creature who surrenders himself to the world is ruined by it.

If any man loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him; in other words, we cannot love God and love the world at the same time. Of course, there is a proper regard for the world which we may have; a regard for the beauty and perfection of God's works, for the achievements of science on the acquisition of wealth, or personal influence, but it is where the regard for these things intrudes upon our love for the Author and Giver of them that its wrongfulness and calamity appear.

Suppose you were to receive two letters from different friends, each saying that he would visit you at the same day and hour. And suppose they were so ungenial to each other that it would be embarrassing and injurious to permit them to meet, what would you do? To one or the other you must excuse yourself, which shall it be? Other matters aside, it will be the one you love least.

So there comes a time in the life of each of us when we hear the Father of our spirits knocking at our door and asking to come in and be our guest. The god of this world is already in the enjoyment of our hospitality, but now must decide whom we shall choose.

The Word tells us that we are not to love the world because all that is in the world is not of the Father. And now it is explained just what is meant. Three things are named: "The lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes and the pride of life." "Lust" in this case refers to any passion or propensity of the heart for forbidden things, or even for proper things when indulged in excessively.

The "lust of the flesh" pertains to the gratification of the grosser bodily appetites; the "lust of the eyes," the covetous desire for the things of others, and the "pride of life" points to arrogance and boasting.

Now are these three great principles of worldly-mindedness named at ran-

FOOD ADMINISTRATOR ASKS FOR MORE CARS

MADISON, MAR. 1.—Food Administrator Magnus Swenson today joined in the demand made by the United States Food Administration for more cars in which to move food stuffs. The scarcity of sugar in Madison and other Wisconsin cities was responsible for the following telegram sent to Washington by Mr. Swenson directed to the Food Administration: "Can we not cut down on the use of sugar for candy? We are currently out of both sugar and corn syrup and can't roller. Wire answer."

Mr. Swenson believes that this is one way in which the sugar problem can be solved but declared that the practical remedy is more cars.

"In spite of the statements made by Mr. McAdoo I am inclined to support Mr. Hoover's contention that we have had fewer cars than could have been obtained. We have in Wisconsin 5,000,000 bushels of potatoes and no cars to haul them. We have labored for a month with Mr. McAdoo's department and seem to make no headway. Wisconsin farmers increased their production in 1917 and as a result their potato crop was large. They paid a good price for seed and must have a reasonable return for their product. During the last month we have been unable to get cars and there is danger that some of this valuable crop may be spoiled and wasted for this reason."

"I know of one farm in Menasha which needs 250 cars to move its product. It is time some one in Washington got busy. "There need be no sugar famine in Wisconsin if someone will furnish the cars to move the crop in Colorado. I do not pretend to be an expert on transportation but if the government is holding back cars because of priority orders, some other system should be followed. It is extremely important to the American people that we get some practical action at once."

Best-Sugar Production.

In 1747 a Berlin chemist discovered that sugar could be obtained from beets, and since then the percentage of sugar has been increased so considerably by selective breeding of the vegetables that nowadays a ton of it is derived from nine tons of the roots. The average person in this country consumes two-thirds of his own weight of sugar in a year.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Mrs. Thompson: About the time I have relative I have, with whom I really enjoy me.

There is one girl in the crowd who is especially mean to me and she seems to be the best liked by all the girls. She takes pains to make fun of my boy friends and of everything in the world that I care especially for. She also talks about my big head and she says I would be good looking if my eyes weren't too big. I wish I didn't feel so badly about these remarks, but I can't help it. If I drop the girls I will be unhappy too because I am so thoroughly like the rest and I know they like me. What would you advise me to do?

HELEN C.

Do not be so sensitive. If the girl were not jealous of you for some reason or other she would not make such remarks. I can assure you absolutely that if she really likes you her eyes were too big she would be kind enough not to say so. Above all do not show that her remarks hurt you. Laugh at them, because she only says unkind things to bother you and when she sees that you have succeeded she glories in the fact.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What harmless remedy is good for blackheads?

A. E. L.

Get a camomile face soap, a bland toilet soap, a little good cold cream and a few ounces of common washing soda. If the blackheads are very distinct, press them out; if not scrub the face morning and night with hot water into which you have put a bit of soda. Take the size of a navy buck to each quart of hot water and rub the brush and scrub the face thoroughly. Afterward apply the toilet cream.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Kindly suggest something that will shrink a sweater. I have an all-wool one that has been washed twice, but it gets larger instead of shrinking.

MRS. H. R.

The sweater may shrink if you put it in boiling water, and again it may not. There is no other way I can suggest to shrink it.

Her Great Adventure

by ZOE BOCKLEY

SOMETHING HAPPENS AND YET— When a man kisses a girl he is sometimes surprised. Again she may be surprised. Or neither one. If He is, he says "You little wench!" Laying the responsibility upon her, where perhaps it lies. In SEELE is she gasps, "Why have you done this to me?" Putting it quite justly, up to him. If they both are, they say nothing. They feel too much to put into words. If neither is, they burst at once into voluble pliffling of premeditation.

Claire and Whitney said nothing. She released her in an instant. Claire backed away with both hands to her face. Whitney stood a moment looking down at the girl, then strode over to Claire. Claire took her hands from her vividly pink cheeks, turned away and with beat head began straightening the disordered table.

His silence was embarrassing to Whitney. Not another girl he knew would have so stressed the incident. Whitney had been a little surprised himself when he kissed Claire. He had not premeditated it. He hadn't stopped to think how she would take it. He just saw how sweet she was, how sparkling, how sweet and simple. The quietude of the evening, the uplifted quality of Grace's "blessed" and his genuine liking and admiration for Claire herself had made him yield to man's natural impulse. Now he wanted to explain. To apologize. But Claire's silence quieted him.

Whitney was suddenly awkward with this young woman. He was too simple and simple in all that made up his code of life to be self-conscious. He was too casual in his work and his social relations to be made uncomfortable by anything that came along. He loved people and fun and art and poetry and food and drink and adventure.

Love of adventure had made Whitney a lot of things for people. He liked to see how they turned out. A new kind of person appeared to Whitney as a new mountain peak tured the Alpine climber. Claire had been a new kind of person—a kind he

by DAVID CORY

There's no place like home," said Uncle Lucky, as he tied the buckyknotted up in the stable and gave a drink of gasoline, and the bear and Billy Bunny were to the house to supper. The little rabbit had arrived to eat supper at Uncle Lucky's, and no would you after I tell you what there was to eat. First there were lettuce sandwiches and turnip sandwiches, and carrots and beans, and carrots and beans. Then sugar coated carrots and turnips, and after that apple pie with lots of brown sugar over the crust!

"Well, what shall we do now?" said Uncle Lucky after supper was over.

"Let's go to a moving picture show," said Billy Bunny, and no sooner had he said the words than dear kind Uncle Lucky lit on his stamping and started off. And so, as they came to the building where the moving picture show was held, and Uncle Lucky bought two tickets and in they went. But, oh dear me, and oh dear you! Isn't it strange that something always has to happen to these two nice bunnies? Well, nobody else please ask the policeman to see that nothing awful happens after this. Well, no sooner had the old gentleman rabbit and his small nephew sat down than the place caught on fire, and everybody tried to get out of the door at the same time, and if the side of the building hadn't given way, I guess two or five people would have been squeezed out of their shoes and stockings.

And when everybody was out and the place all burned down the fire engine came puffing up and squirted water all over the people who were trying to get their money back from the ticket man!

"Let them keep our money," said Uncle Lucky. "I'd rather lose it than give it away." And he jumped into his automobile and started off for home. But goodness me! he didn't notice that Billy Bunny wasn't with him. Wasn't it careless of kind Uncle Lucky? You see, he was so excited over the fire that he forgot for a moment his small nephew wasn't with him. And so, off he went.

And when Billy Bunny looked around of course he couldn't find the old gentleman rabbit nor the Lucky-mobile.

"Well, this is too bad," said Billy Bunny. "What shall I do?"

And then, without answering himself, he got out of the road toward Uncle Lucky's house. But he had only gone a little ways, just so far, when a big owl flew out of a barn and picked up the little rabbit and carried him back to her nest.

"This is the last of me," thought the little rabbit. And then he thought something else. For he turned up his strong little hind legs and kicked that

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

4. A young woman who attends a party without an escort should provide a cab or the company of some couple who will not object to seeing their safety to her own door.

M. J. S.—Your questions bring up a point that has often interested me. To congratulate the bridegroom on having won for his wife the woman he has chosen is quite fitting and altogether satisfactory; but to abstain carefully from congratulating the love of the man, and having acquired him for a husband, seems more or less derogatory to him. But the laws of etiquette are relentless on this point; and I dare say that etiquette knows what it is about, having had long experience. Then to add to this circumstance the absolute compunction to be quite as happy and triumphant as does the bridegroom, solicitous wishes for her happiness carries with it a tentative doubt that happiness awaits her, and emphasizes the already well established implication that her husband is a blackguard, and that, given time, he will desert her. Well, sometimes it does: perhaps sometimes it will be perfectly correct for women to woo and win on an equality with men; and then etiquette may permit us to congratulate both the bridegroom and the bride.

Judge.—A high silk hat should be worn only with a long-tailed coat, a frock, a cutaway, or full dress.

Knitting is a fine thing for the girls.

Breadmaking, sewing household economy, all these arts are acquisitions which any girl may well cherish. They make a girl just as much attractive in the eyes of the stern but calculating sex; they make her just as much harder for a real man to resist. Practical knowledge of useful arts of this kind stimulates the marriage market. Most any young man with brains naturally hesitates about contracting to supply twenty-one meals a week, clothes and everything for just a doll; living expenses are so high. But the practical girl, the well educated girl, is an entirely different proposition. She looks like a real helmsman to the young man who ponders the adventure of his calmer conquests. She makes a noise like an eagle, rather than a liability, and thus she is the girl that rings the wedding bells.

A girl knitting is a pretty picture;

a girl kneading bread is a sore temptation; but a girl dressing a baby is the last straw, the apotheosis of her sex.

Why don't the mothers get busy and introduce some good honest instruction into the public school system? We are turning out too many dolls and not enough little women.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

We Believe in Good Things

Do you personally, not just professionally, believe in the efficacy of vaccination against smallpox? (E. M.)

Answer.—For my own children, yes.

I believe in compulsory vaccination for members of my own household.

I do not believe it right to enforce vaccination on people who do not want it, but no quarantine rules can be too rigid for such people in time of danger to the community.

Bettie from "The 100 Per Cent Mother"

Is beer or porter good for a woman nursing a baby two months old? What will best enable her to continue nursing successfully? (J. M.)

Answer.—Beer or porter tends to diminish the breast function and prevent successful nursing. The mother should eat a full variety of wholesome foods, omitting nothing whatever that ordinarily agrees with her. The surest aid to successful nursing is at least an hour in the open air every day, taking the baby alone of course.

DOLLS AND LITTLE WOMEN

Altogether too many girls are dolls. Their sole ambition is to dance, have a good time, wear pretty clothes and take the stellar role in that department. She makes a noise like an eagle, rather than a liability, and thus she is the girl that rings the wedding bells.

A girl knitting is a pretty picture; a girl kneading bread is a sore temptation; but a girl dressing a baby is the last straw, the apotheosis of her sex.

Why don't the mothers get busy and introduce some good honest instruction into the public school system? We are turning out too many dolls and not enough little women.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

We Believe in Good Things

Do you personally, not just professionally, believe in the efficacy of vaccination against smallpox? (E. M.)

Answer.—For my own children, yes.

I believe in compulsory vaccination for members of my own household.

I do not believe it right to enforce vaccination on people who do not want it, but no quarantine rules can be too rigid for such people in time of danger to the community.

Bettie from "The 100 Per Cent Mother"

Is beer or porter good for a woman nursing a baby two months old? What will best enable her to continue nursing successfully? (J. M.)

Answer.—Beer or porter tends to diminish the breast function and prevent successful nursing. The mother should eat a full variety of wholesome foods, omitting nothing whatever that ordinarily agrees with her. The surest aid to successful nursing is at least an hour in the open air every day, taking the baby alone of course.

Sacra-Hiac Strain or "Sciatica?"

What is good for sciatic neuralgia?

They have had for two weeks,

one day tried to lift a heavy plank, and since then left leg has been affected and it is painful and hard to work. Have fly blistered and taken all kinds of uric acid eliminators. (J. A. D.)

WE DISLIKE

Are there any words you dislike? We up today I find that Oliver Wendell Holmes makes the same statement.

This same woman thought it was most indelicate to speak of sending the dirty clothes to the wash.

(Baked) (and with good reason, I think) she always wanted substitution for dirt.

Among my own aversions are the words used in the household article which stands at our back doors and receives into its innards the scraps of food we find ourselves unable to use. (I am told that these scraps are growing astonishingly less since conservation has become the watchword of the American housewife.)

I Prefer Crumb Basket

There are two words for this article and I can never decide which I find the most offensive. I have a club of which I am a member, called

"Pantries." As far as I am concerned

they strike his ear, he dislikes

My mother had a great aversion to the word "pantry." So strongly did she feel about that word that I try never to use that word.

"Gents Wear Pants"

"Pants" is a word most thoroughly despised by another one of my friends. This friend used to signify himself by saying whenever she heard one of her children use it,

"Don't say pants, say trousers, only gentlemen wear pants." (In looking the words which I have brought up mostly a disagreeable connoisseur, but there are plenty of other words that get themselves disliked for other reasons.

They Hate the Word "Husband."

For instance, I know several people who dislike the word "husband."

There's something so smug and complacent about that word or the way most married women say it," one of my enemies told me. (She is not herself married so perhaps there is some undercurrent of feeling about her attitude.)

Another woman

insists she hates it just because of the hard, silent sound of it.

Are there any words you dislike and why? May we not have a symposium on them some day?

The Daily Novelette

ALL FOR NINE CENTS.

Seeing so many flags out and Liberty Bond buttons on and people dropping money in Red Cross jars and things like that, couldn't help but thrill even mean old Simon Simons, Honky Tonk, Chinaman, Chinese Sports, into doing something patriotic—something great for his country.

With his usually bent head thrown back, and his nearly-always shrunken chest bulged forward, Simon Simons started up the street, resolved to do his bit if it cost him a quarter.

A Food Will Win the War. Don't Waste postage stamps. Simon had an idea.

Money buys food—don't spend it!" reasoned Simon.

So he betook himself into Chinaman's Chop House, hung up his fur coat and ran his finger up the list of figures on the menu, stopping when he saw $0.08 and looking to see what it was. He ordered the dill-pickle and ate it.

Once more running his finger up the prices, he found $0.12, ordered a cup of weak, sugarless tea and came to the cost of his lunch, the $0.18 pleased him mightily.

As he chucked when he thought of how he had obeyed Mr. Hoover, helped his country and saved $0.09 all at once. So getting up with a broad grin on his stingy face, he reached for his Two-hundred-dollar minsky fur-lined coat and found it not.

The next batch of water that revived Simon Simons also opened his eyes which rested on a sign where his coat should have been:

DRUGGISTS

Good Old Reliable Peterson's Ointment Stops Itching Instantly.

"Find me needles on my legs. Doctor wanted to cut off leg. Peterson's ointment cured me." Wm. J. Nichols, 49 Wilder St., Rochester, N. Y.

Get a large box for 20 cents at any druggist, says Peterson, and money back if it doesn't help you at once.

Always keep Peterson's Ointment in the house. Fine for burns, scalds, bruises, and the surest remedy for skin diseases, pimples, itching eczema, and piles the world has ever known.

"Peterson's Ointment is the best for bleeding and itching piles I have ever found," Major Charles E. Whitney, Vineyard Haven, Mass.

Your druggist's father sold
Dr. King's Discovery for Coughs & Colds

sold considerable, too, and now it is known the nation over as the standard cough and cold remedy. Successful and satisfactory because it is quick acting and safe. Doesn't upset the stomach nor does it nauseate. Use it for that mean hacking cough, and all stages of grippe. Get it at your druggists.

Always Lead to Better Health
Serious sicknesses start in disorders of the Stomach and Liver. The best corrective and preventive is Dr. King's New Life Pills. They prevent Constipation, keep Liver and Bowels in a healthy condition. Effective, mild.

"Who Will Win This Battle?"

Your kidneys are the filters of the body. If they become inactive and fail to eliminate the waste matter, they are apt to throw the whole mechanism of the body out of order, thus toxic poisons can accumulate in the system and be as deadly as snake venom.

Besides causing the minor ailments of rheumatism, sciatica, lameness and backache, neglect of the kidneys is apt to develop into more serious diseases such as diabetes or stone in the bladder.

Rid the body of toxic poisons—clean the bladder and kidneys and cure the twinges of rheumatism with Antric and you win the battle of life.

Antric was first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and has benefited thousands of sufferers as well as appeared and eliminated the ravages of the more serious kidney diseases. Now procurable for 20 cents at any good drug store, or send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package.

Sgt. Paul, Mrs.—"I had been troubled with disordered kidneys for about two years. My back ached terribly, sides pained, and I had pain in my joints. I lost my appetite just recently when I read of Doctor Pierce's Antric. I have taken the Antric, but a short time, but am now feeling fine. My side and back hurt still, but it is getting better. exceptions are not so frequent, and I sleep well at night now, which I couldn't do before."

I certainly advise anyone suffering from kidney disorders to use Antric."

JOHN AASEN WOULD BE VALUABLE ASSET TO ARMY

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

New Rockford, N. D., March 1.

John Aaseen, 22, stands 7 feet ½ inch in his stocking feet, weighs 340 pounds, and surely wants to go over there and get a German helmet for a trophy.

But the government won't take him, even in the face of his argument that his huge dimensions would be a great asset to the government in conservation of ammunition. He claims he would just walk out in No-Man's Land, and the size of him would put the fear of God in the Hun's hearts. Physicians who rejected him for military service claimed he is afflicted with "growing disease." Persons who have seen him agree with the

WILCOX BOND BILL
VETOED BY PHILIPP FOR FIVE REASONS

[EXTRACT TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., March 1.—The Wilcox $1,000,000 bond bill based on an income tax was vetoed by Governor Philipp last night. Governor Philipp attempted to have a bill passed basing the payments of the bonds on a general income tax for the year 1918. Senator Wilcox changed the purpose by inserting the payment of the bond to a tax on 1917 incomes in excess of $12,000. Governor Philipp finds the Wilcox bill unconstitutional for five specific reasons. Three of the constitutional infirmities are urged by Dr. Rankin of Chicago performed the operation. The other two additional reasons are urged by Wood & Chidley, bond attorneys of Chicago of international reputation. On the door of the upper house, Senator Wilcox referred to Wood & Chidley as competent authority to pass on the constitutional authority of the bond. Jeanneau thinks this bill is in this firm which holds the Wilcox bill unconstitutional.

Governor Philipp charges political and says that this money has been used for the support of the National Guards.

"It must seem small indeed to those who have been benefited by the money that an attempt should be made to create a political issue of the character of the bond and the other necessities and comforts that we gave them when they left their homes."

The raising of this money was one of the prime reasons for calling the legislature into special session. Following is the veto message:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

I return your bill, without my approval, but No. 1, tax entitled "An Act providing for borrowing of money and issuing bonds therefor for the purposes specified in section 7, article VIII of the constitution and providing for a special fund for the redemption of such bonds."

I withhold my approval of this bill for the following reasons:

First. Because it is held to be unconstitutional for five separate reasons:

First. Because it places the burden of carrying on a general state activity upon a small class of taxpayers only.

Second. Because it does not levy a constitutional tax to pay the bonds and interest.

Third. Because it is not within the terms of the bill for the special session of the legislature.

Fourth. Because it exempts from taxation all incomes below fifteen thousand dollars.

Fifth. Because it is a surtax upon the incomes received in 1917.

The first three constitutional objections are urged against the bill by Honorable Spencer Harren, attorney-general for the state, and submitted to me in an official opinion under date of February 28, 1918.

The fourth and fifth constitutional objections have been submitted to me by Attorney Charles E. Woods, of the firm of Woods and Kelly, home of the new residing in Chicago, whose judgment in the question of the validity of bonds is generally accepted by the leading bond houses of the country, and who was referred to upon the floor of the senate by the author of this bill as competent authority upon the constitutionality of the same.

The issue proposed in this bill is submitted to this firm of attorneys. I did so with the feeling that I was complying with the wishes of the senate. Their opinion is contained in a letter to me under date of February 25, 1918, and is as follows in my effect:

I believe that it is unconstitutional for the reason that the bill creates a debt that is payable in one year at an annual interest rate of five per cent to be sold at not less than par. This type of security would be suitable to bankers only and comes in competition with short time notes and commercial paper. The ruling rate of interest that is being paid for this type of securities at this time is from six to seven per cent per annum. While the bonds would be gilt-edged (if the fact that created them were constitutional) they will bring no more in the market than well secured commercial paper or equally good short time notes.

Experience has shown that the men when donned make some of the men look more like Arctic explorers than Indians.

Holmots of wool which cover all but the eyes, nose and mouth; light knitted coat sweaters, jerseys and cardigan jackets; light mittens and gloves; extra heavy socks; knee-length stockings; leather snow boots; wind-proof khaki-colored trousers; great coats lined with lamb's wool. The last named are worn over the life jackets and help to make up the most serviceable combination worn by Americans over here. They keep the men warm on the damp cold days with the biting winds and the sleet squalls are hourly affairs and you can't see an inch.

Rolatives of a large majority of the men over here continue to send knitted things all sorts of knitted garments arrive and are deeply appreciated. Ottomans the men receive knitted garments from wife or sweetheart, hear that are not very popular but among writing letters from home are so enthusiastic that the men hesitate to utter a word of criticism.
